Daly City Police Find Body Of Suicide

Lying face downward on a rough bier of tin and boards, the body of a San Francisco suicide victim was found in the Crocker hills east of Daly City on Friday.

Police Chief James G. Reardon and Lieutenant A. L. Hilton were investigating a car, reported parked since the day before on the road near the wireless station, when they found a note on its front seat. Written in both English and Italian, the message read "I am close from here—100 feet—Joe."

In the brush about 300 feet away, the officers found the man's body, which was covered by a blanket. He had shot himself through the mouth.

Identified as Joseph Bragagnolo, San Francisco, the victim was taken to the W. C. Lasswell mortuary, where funeral services were conducted, Monday morning. Interment was in the Italian cemetery.

ACCIDENT

Nine-Year-Old Fights For Life

Hovering between life and death in St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, a nine-year-old Daly City schoolboy fights for his life today as the result of the third accident of its kind here in the last two weeks.

Riding a scooter at the top of the hill last Tuesday evening, Patrick Byrnes, 129 Hillcrest drive, was struck down at 8:14 p. m. by a car driven by Darrell Waggener, Sylvia, Kansas.

Rushed with serious skull injuries to the Villa hospital by Daly City ambulance, Patrick was later transferred to St. Mary's, according to Dr. William C. Lynch, attending physician.

The boy was reported "holding his own" today, and has shown a few signs of returning consciousness.

Pending more definite knowledge of Patrick's injuries, the case against Weggener has been postponed until Friday, according to Daly City police.

Meanwhile, eight-year-old Robert Pilgrim, 107 Hillcrest drive, is convalescing from a broken jaw and fractured arm, incurred when the bicycle he was riding crashed into an automobile on San Jose avenue, less than two hours before the other accident.

William Hugh Osberne, 1391 Eighth avenue, driver of the car, rushed Robert to the Villa hospital, where he was given first-aid treatment.

Recovering at St. Mary's hospital, eleven-year-old Werner Ilgenstein, who was hit by a car while riding a bicycle a week ago Saturday, was reported "better" today.

The draftees will gather at the local city hall at 8:30 a. m., where transportation into San Francisco will be available for them.

"The Christmas Spirit Came To Spike" Is Title Of Unusual Recreation Report

"The Christmas Spirit Came to Spike" is the title of one of the most unusual WPA reports on the Peninsula this year.

The leaflet contains the annual report of the local WPA Recreation department, with recreation accomplishments told by word and picture.

"Spike" might be any one of the hundreds of youngsters here who have enjoyed the benefits of supervised play during the past year. Whimsical drawings of Spike at summer camp, Spike hunting Easter eggs in the rain, and Spike pretending to be a ghost, do much to enliven this booklet. Both the cleverly-designed illustrations and the charming continuity are the work of Miss Jehan Dorn, local art instructor.

Sitting cross-legged on the floor, Spike describes the sewing activities as follows:

"You know, fellers aren't so much interested in sewin', but I'm tellin' you, we sure do have fun, 'specially makin' somethin' for our maws for Christmas. Huh? Sure we can. Why I made a mat for my Mother to put a hot plate on, on the table. It keeps from makin' a mark on the shiny table top. Besides I read once that the Prince of Wales learned to sew—yes sir—and say, you ought to see the swell things the girls make. They even learn how to make dresses for themselves. If you know how a feller can make himself a shirt too. So I say, its

V. PRESTON RECOVERS FROM SEVERE BURNS

Convalescing at his home from severe burns about the head, neck and arms, V. Preston, 2139 Junipero Serra boulevard, owes his life to a quick-witted motorist.

Preston was burning rubbish near his home, when a few drops of gasoline he had added to the fire suddenly exploded in his face, setting all the clothing on the upper part of his body aflame.

A passing motorist rushed to him with a blanket as Preston was attempting to beat out the flames. Taken to a local hospital, he was given first aid treatment.

Reported improving this week, Preston will be confined to his bed for some time to come.

Local Teams Place High In League

Universal Press and Curry's Barbers are giving Peninsula merchants a run for their money in 9:30 division, Merchants league in the Burlingame bowl.

Although Universal lost two games to the leading Fisher's Boys, last Tuesday, they press hard on the heels of the top quintet. Curry's Barbers, taking two games away from Gallen Kamps, tie for second-place ranking.

Milo's Butchers set a record of 905—two above the old mark—for team game and missed the high mark for series for only five pins with a 2514 tops for the evening.

R. Ferrari and T. Milo had a 210 game each and, on Burlingame Advance records, set a new series mark of 571. The team took all three games from Cal. Gen. Linen Supply.

Present league standings are as follows:

Troop 148 To Take In New Members

Attention, Daly City boys! Here's your chance. Do you like to sleep outdoors? and go camping? and cook over a camp-fire?

Well, the chance is yours. Mel Hansen, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 148 announces that his troop is looking for new members.

The troop meets at 7:15 p. m. each Tuesday evening at the No. 5 firehouse, 335 Bellevue. Any boy over twelve years of age is eligible to apply for membership.

The troop already owns extensive camping equipment, such as tents and cooking kits. In addition to the kind of outdoor games and sports that every boy enjoys, the Scouts undertake many other interesting projects.

Although Troop No. 148 is sponsored by Old Glory Post No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, troop activities are in no sense of the word connected with military training. Scoutmaster Hansen emphasized again today that the troop aims are healthy American work and play, not military training.

Assistant Scoutmaster is George Freeman. Any boy who would like to join this group is cordially invited to attend a meeting any Tuesday evening.

Sea Scouts Don Dress Uniforms

Sea Scouts of Ship No. 1 will don dress uniforms tonight and have their pictures taken. The Daly City Record photographer, Dale A. Hovey, will take the photo at 8:30 p. m. at the No. 5 firehouse.

The youthful saiors spent part of Sunday working on their motor launch, The Falcon, on property adjoining the Bethlehem ship building plant. With the forward cabin near completion, the Scouts hope to be sailing the boat on the Bay within the next few weeks. Linoleum for the floors, donated by Chris Henke of San Francisco Post No. 1, American Legion, was especially appreciated, the Scouts said.

At an informal meeting last Wednesday, the boys welcomed a new candidate, George Freeman, a transfer from Ship No. 389 in San Francisco. They also entertained a visitor, Ed Milia, and played games.

Elect Leon Fletcher President Of Players

Leon Fletcher, 216 Templeton avenue, was honored at San Mateo junior college this week.

Fletcher, a graduate of Jefferson Union high school, was elected president of the Players club, leading dramatic group at the junior college. A sophomore this year, Fletcher is majoring in radio and public speaking.

REV. LLOYD E. ELLIS ATTENDS SALINAS PROGRAM

Lloyd E. Ellis, minister of the Church of Christ, 302 Jules avenue, attended the lectureship program in Salinas, last Thursday. He was accompanied by his family.

The program was sponsored by the Church of Christ in Salinas. Reverend Ellis was a guest speaker at both the morning and evening sessions.

Troop 141 Plans Parents' Night

Boy Scout Troop No. 141 is already making extensive plans for celebrating National Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, Scoutmaster Joseph Straughan revealed today.

The week will open with the annual Parents Night at the Grace Nazarene church, February 7. Scouts, Cubs and Cubbies will entertain their mothers and fathers in royal style, with a banquet at 6:30 p. m. and a program and Court of Honor later.

During the week, the boys will wear their uniforms to school and will perform some special "civic good turn." Details of the program will be announced later.

Troop 101 Ready For Scout Week

Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 101 are shining their shoes for the big Boy Scout parade in San Francisco. Main event of National Boy Scout week in this area, the huge parade will be staged Sunday, February 9.

Troop No. 101, which took fourth place last year out of more than fifty units participating, hopes to take honors again this year.

During the celebration of Scout week, the boys will wear their uniforms to school, perform a good deed for the city, and may even appear over the air waves.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Frank Coughlin, the troop visited Station KSFO on Friday to hear the "Cities Quiz" program, weekly bout between contesting teams of San Francisco and Los Angeles. The Daly City scouts have applied for permission to challenge a Los Angeles Scout team over the air during Scout week.

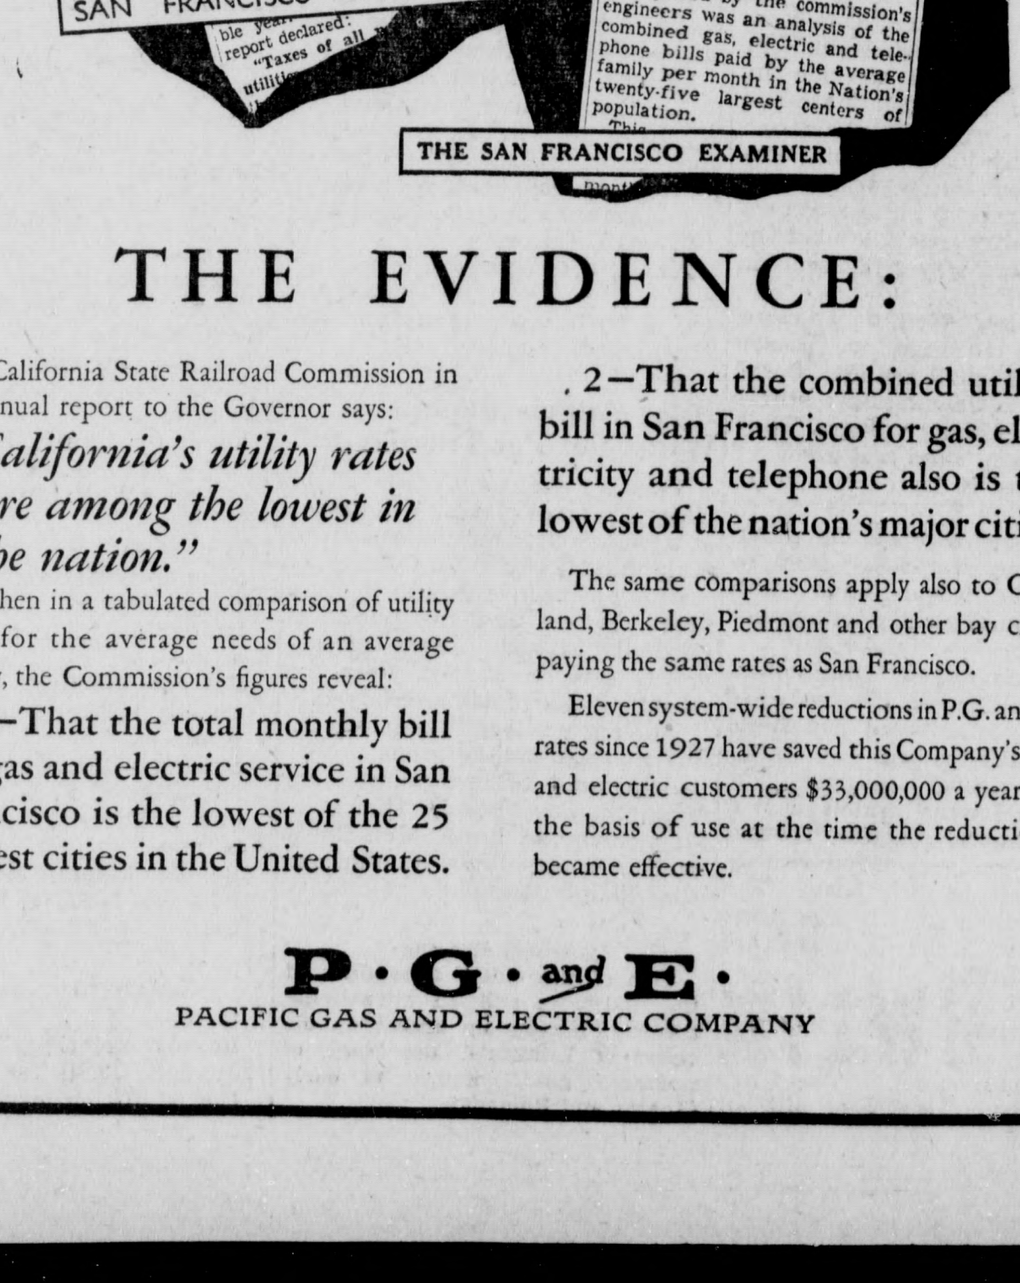
Utility Service Cheaper Here

Combined Gas and Electric Costs Lowest of 25 Major U. S. Cities



The City
This Metropolitan Area Has Lowest Utility Rates in U.S.
In the San Francisco Bay Metropolitan Area the average family's gas, light and telephone bills are lower than in any major city of the country.
And, largely through rate reductions ordered by the State Railroad Commission, most California families today are paying approximately 25 per vent less for utilities than they were seven years ago.
The commission so informed Governor Olson yesterday in a report covering its operations during the 1939-40 fiscal year.
The report stated, moreover, that reductions ordered during this last fiscal year will produce net annual savings to the public of $7,243,000
Gross reductions, on an annual basis, effected during the period included $3,580,574 in electric rates, $1,267,175 in gas rates, $2,392,430 in telephone rates, $91,560 in water rates.
SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE
UTILITY BILL OF BAY REGION LOWEST IN U.S.
Combined Cost to Average Family Shown in Rail Body Report; Rate Reductions Cited
The State railroad commission's ninety-first annual report, highlighted by an analysis showing that San Francisco and the Bay area have the lowest combined utility bill of the Nation's major population centers, yesterday was forwarded to Governor Olson.
The report covered the fiscal year from July 1, 1939, to June 30, 1940, and chronicled reductions of $7,243,000 annually in the State's electric, gas, telephone and water bills.
These reductions were divided among $3,580,574 in electric rates, $2,392,430 in telephone rates, $1,267,175 in gas rates and $91,560 in water rates.
NO. 1 SPOT.
Prepared by the commission's engineers was an analysis of the combined gas, electric and telephone bills paid by the average family per month in the Nation's twenty-five largest centers of population.
THE SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER

THE EVIDENCE:

The California State Railroad Commission in its annual report to the Governor says:

"California's utility rates are among the lowest in the nation."

And then in a tabulated comparison of utility bills for the average needs of an average family, the Commission's figures reveal:

1—That the total monthly bill for gas and electric service in San Francisco is the lowest of the 25 largest cities in the United States.

2—That the combined utility bill in San Francisco for gas, electricity and telephone also is the lowest of the nation's major cities.

The same comparisons apply also to Oakland, Berkeley, Piedmont and other bay cities paying the same rates as San Francisco.

Eleven system-wide reductions in P.G. and E. rates since 1927 have saved this Company's gas and electric customers $33,000,000 a year on the basis of use at the time the reductions became effective.

ADVENTURE DEAD? NOT MUCH!

Two Local Boys Explore Strange Customs In Far-Off Japan

Two Daly City pals, both former students of Jefferson Union high school, are adventuring in the queer islands of the Orient this month, learning to speak Japanese, watching the odd little fishing boats and thinking of home.

To the friends of Bernerd Winn and Larry Leach, the letters from Japan hold a special interest. For everyone who reads them, these letters are packed with interest, showing as they do vivid word-pictures of the long sea voyage and of the unusual customs of a foreign land.

Addressed to his sister, Mrs. Frances Leach, the following letter was written by Bernerd Winn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winn, 67 Miriam street.

December 6, 1940
Itozaki, Japan

Dear Frankie and all,

Well, you've probably read mother's letter so I won't say much about the trip over. I will say that it was very long and very hard. I thought I was sorry I came many times, but when it was over I knew I was glad.

Our boat is anchored out in the harbor of Itozaki. They unload the cargo into barges and take it some place. We have to take a sail boat to shore.

You should see the boats over here in Japan. There must be half a million boats of one kind or another. There are some large steamboats of course, but I mean smaller boats. Some of the big boats (40 or 50 feet) are beautiful with their odd sails, but only at a distance.

When you get close you can see how crude they are. There is never any paint on them and they are all made from rough lumber, unplaned and sometimes in the natural shape of its growth. The smaller ones are just as crude and run by many systems.

You would be surprised to see the big expensive engines in some of the boats that you would be ashamed or scared to ride in. Many of the small boats are run by an odd sort of pole and oar, and others by just sails, with oars always handy. Perry's boat would probably draw a curious crowd over here, all wondering what the paint was, and why it had seats in it.

The country? Well, as we came from Kobe to here, we passed probably 50 small islands. Some have only a few houses; others have small fishing villages. They all have steep sides and are very mountainous if large enough to be so.

Fishing seems to be the thing, at least wherever we've been so far. All the islands have small plots of ground planted with something.

The Japanese people are not at all like the Chinese. The men are small, very slant-eyed and some terribly buck-toothed.

None I've ever seen yet wear shoes. Some wear sandals and some a canvas covering around their legs and feet. Their clothes are as crude as their boats. The girls are much nicer looking than I expected. Some of them are really beautiful.

Itozaki is a very small village. It has no paved streets and only one very long, crooked, dimly-lighted main street. There are many narrow side streets, with all types of shops and inns.

No one here can speak English, but that doesn't bother me any more. I am used to talking with my hands and have picked up quite a bit of Japanese.

We went ashore last night for the first time and had a swell time. The second mate, two sailors and myself went together and ate at a very expensive, though small, hotel. Most of the food I couldn't eat, but it was fun.

The sailors on the boat are all swell. They try to understand and speak English but don't have much luck. Sometimes I'm almost glad it is a foreign boat because it gives me much experience in understanding other languages.

Well, I must close now until next time. Be good.

Bern

Bernerd sailed from home November 8 on the Swedish ship, Herma Gorthan. Three weeks later, his friend, Larry Leach, sailed aboard the Swedish liner, Oscar Gorthan. His note to Mrs. Ada Pulley, wife of Bert Pulley, proprietor of Central Creamery, reads as follows:

December 26, 1940

Dear Ada,

I arrived in Japan today in a little town called Esachie. It is close to Yokohama. We had gasoline as cargo and on the way back we stop at Goo Goo islands for a load of copra.

It took a month to get here, but the storms slowed us down about ten days. My work consisted of steering this tub. The job is easy but the hours are lousy. I work four on and four off, so I don't get enough sleep at one time.

My money is worth four times as much over here. I get four ying for one dollar. One ying is the same as a dollar to the Japanese.

I spent Christmas on the boat, but we had a big meal and we got two and one-half days off for New year's. I like the idea of the days off, only it isn't New Year's here.

I didn't get sea-sick at all, so I feel lucky, because I expected to. We have good meals on the boat and clean cabins with electric lights and steam heat. We also get our cigarettes for five and one-half cents a pack.

Aloha, with oceans of love,

Larry

THE NEW HOUSEKEEPER

Elect Ed Allen Captain Of Posse

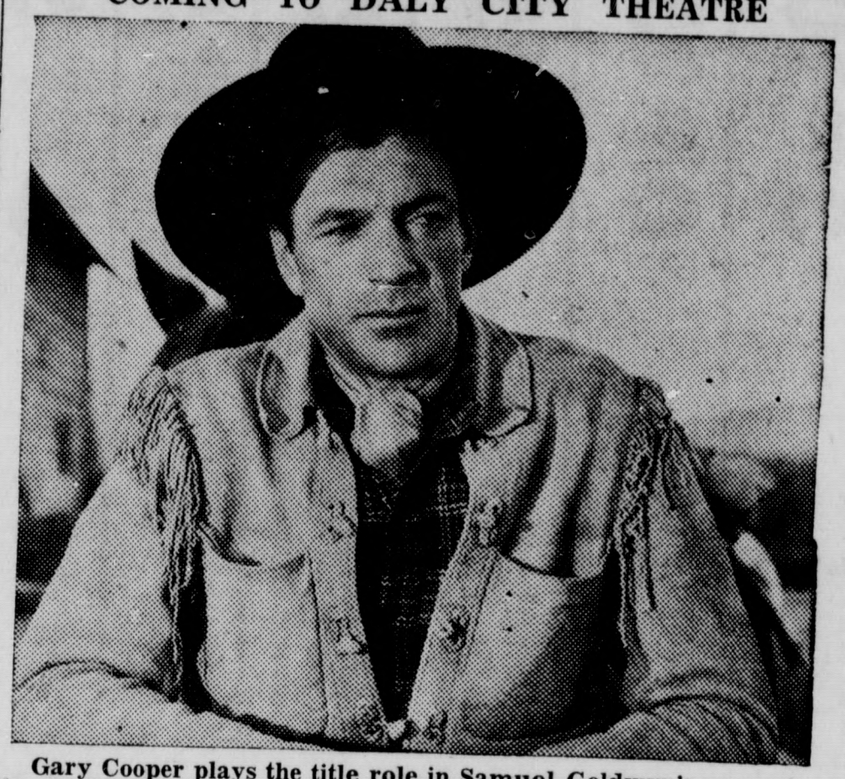
San Mateo county sheriff's posse installed new officers for 1941 last Wednesday evening in Bayshore City.

Ed Allen of Daly City was elected first captain to succeed John P. Lawson, Bayshore City, who has held the captaincy for the past two years. Lawson will be honored at a banquet Saturday evening at Uncle Tom's Cabin for his fine leadership.

Other officers, re-elected without opposition for their third consecutive terms and given a rising vote of thanks for their splendid work, included Frank Ratto, Redwood City, second captain; John Wimbley, Daly City, first lieutenant, and George Plamondon, South San Francisco, second lieutenant. Fred Hobbs, San Mateo, was elected sergeant-at-arms, replacing Vic Rossi, Colma.

Plans for the coming year, Allen said today, include the maintenance of the tradition set by this and other counties in the State. The development of a colorful and representative group of horsemen to advertise the county with other sheriff's posses is an important part of this year's work he said. He hopes that San Mateo county sheriff's posse will distinguish itself at all sporting events and shows throughout California.

COMING TO DALY CITY THEATRE



Gary Cooper plays the title role in Samuel Goldwyn's new epic of the old West, "The Westerner," which depicts the roaring days of the '80's in Texas when the cattlemen and the homesteaders were sworn enemies. The picture will be shown at the Daly City theatre tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

Colma B team won the second game from Golden Gate A, but lost the other 2. Dale A. Hovey took high individual honors on the team with 460 series and a 185 game.

Dinnerware-Silverware Program Begins Tonight

Daly City women will receive the opening gifts in the Daly City theatre's new Dinnerware-Silverware program, tonight.

Lady patrons will have their choice of a large 10-inch, 22 karat gold service plate in the dinnerware or a hollow handle stainless steel dinner knife in the silverware.

On subsequent Wednesday evenings, one piece of the Maroon Queen Mary Dinnerware or one piece of the Roseland Silverware will be given until a complete service for eight has been presented. If a lady patron wishes to claim both sets during the current offer, all she will have to do is present two adult admission tickets each Wednesday night, William Smeltzer, manager, explained.

The dinnerware pieces are described as beautifully decorated with a colorful center, full maroon border with a 22-karat gold-lace pattern and edge line.

The distinctive silverware group is made by one of the world's largest silverware manufacturers. Smeltzer pointed out that it has an exquisite pattern and that the dinner knives of stainless steel have the new hollow handles.

The Wonder Books, formerly given each Wednesday night, have been transferred to Monday nights.

Grammar School News

At Woodrow Wilson Elementary

Excitement runs high at the Woodrow Wilson school as the students prepare for their annual January graduation exercises.

Everything from final tests to parties are anxiously awaited. To date two parties have been scheduled for the graduation group. The children who will give farewell parties to their classmates are Bertha Preciado and Jean Castagnetto.

ROOM 4

"Industrial Divisions of the United States" have been the main topic of discussion for the students of Room 4, during the past week.

In carrying on an extensive study of industrial development, two pupils were assigned to gather booklets, maps and information about each state.

ROOM 5

How the United States has become a "Melting Pot of Nations" has been the topic of discussion in Room 5.

ROOM 8

Many interesting and educational hobbies were shown to the students of Room 8 during their English periods last week.

Lorelei Gamba had an extremely colorful exhibit of birds' feathers, which she has gathered from various parts of the state. While exhibiting her collection Lorelei explained to the class the method of preserving and mounting the specimens.

An interesting collection of perfume bottles was exhibited by Ruth Thompson. Ruth has been working on her collection for several years, and has many lovely and attractive bottles in her collection.

Lois Clarke and Dalbert Wedel have similar hobbies—both of the children are extremely interested in chemistry and they explained various experiments they had performed.

Stamp collecting is popular with a number of students. Barbara Roberts and Constance Kaczmark showed the students their individual collections and told them of the value of such a fascinating hobby.

ROOM 9

Reading periods have a heightened interest for pupils in Room 9 these days. Favorite stories are dramatized and presented by the groups into which the class is divided.

Another activity which captures a great deal of attention is the student court, held each Friday. A jury of six decides penalties for rule-breakers. Purpose of the court is to encourage courtesy among all the pupils.

ROOM 12

In connection with their unit on "Roman Life" the pupils of Room 12 are finding Latin books very interesting.

ROOM 15

Alice Twede and Neal Moroney are holding the lead in the arithmetic contest being staged by their class. The object of the contest is to see who can do the most pages of arithmetic.

Leroy Greenwood spent last Sunday on the beach at Santa Cruz watching the various fishing boats.

William Bernzott enjoyed the "Santa Fe Trail" at the St. Francis, last Saturday.

Judith Jespersen spent the week-end in Nevada playing in the snow.

Show Sound Films To Jefferson Pupils

Children of the Jefferson school enjoyed two sound films during the last week. Through the courtesy of the P. G. and E., a film, the "Sierra Playground," was shown to the elementary grades. It stressed the work of Conservation that is being carried on by this company.

Another film, "Building of the West," was presented through the courtesy of the Standard Oil Company of California. It traced the development of the use of petroleum to the presnt time.

The magnificent scenery throughout the vast West was shown in this film. The students will never forget the many beautiful scenes.

At Jefferson School

FIRST GRADE

This week, first graders have made lantern slides of pets. As the pictures are flashed upon the screen, the children tell the story they have previously read about these pets.

Second and Low Third

The second and low third grades of Jefferson are finding out many interesting things about the post office, and the mail. Social studies unit of "The Postoffice" was selected for the last three weeks of this term.

An exhibit will be presented of different stamps, types of mail, and old mail.

Nancy Packwood has brought many stamps already and also a letter which is about one hundred years old.

FOURTH GRADE

The fourth grade at Jefferson has two new members from Humboldt county. They are Laurence and Billie Jean Wickstrom and they had many interesting stories to tell.

They have been showing the class things brought to them from Palestine by an uncle who lived there for a number of years. Laurence brought some money used in Jerusalem and Billie Jean delighted the girls with her dolls.

SIXTH GRADE

Children of Jefferson sixth grade are making lantern slides. They are drawing illustrations portraying articles used or worn by the early pioneers. Each child is anxious to make his illustration as nearly perfect as possible so that it will be chosen to be used on a lantern slide. Those illustrations which are chosen will be used for illustrated talks to be presented to the class. This program is a culmination of the Social Science unit on "Pioneer Life."

SEVENTH GRADE

Peter Ramer gave a very enlightening talk on the National Capitol, Washington, D. C. He told how Washington is unlike any other city in the world. It was built with a definite purpose—to become a nation's capitol. London, Berlin, Paris, and the rest of the European capitols were already crowded cities before they became the seats of their national governments.

Marian Puccinelli, Irma Rossi, Phoebe Remington and Audrey Kusber spoke on the growth of the city and stressed the beauty of the buildings and parks.

THE BEAVER

The students of the seventh grade of Jefferson have just completed a thorough study of the beaver. A large mural showing the beavers at work was made by Virginia Nestor, Peter Ramer and Hubert McDaniel. The Visual Department of the school district supplied flat pictures of the beaver. These pictures illustrated the work of these intelligent little engineers of the rodent family.

cy, which left Daly City November 19, was made up entirely of volunteers. The second contingent will be recruited largely by conscription.

He Had What It Takes

Anybody can keep a job for a few months but it really takes efficiency and dependability to hold one for 25 years. Just such a record has been made by Pete Dormoy, 40 Mission circle, who has served as route salesman for Langendorf company for more than quarter of a century.

Pete Dormoy, at right

The December "California Retail Grocers Advocate" carried a picture and writeup about Dormoy and two of his regular customers (shown in picture above). In addition to depicting the happy relationship between Dormoy and his customers, the picture recorded his delight in the new delivery truck which has been supplied him.

A member of the Daly City Veteran Firemen's association, Dormoy served this community as captain of Company No. 1, DCFD, for five years and as a fire department member for more than ten years. He was finally forced to resign from active service due to the demands of his job.

Mr. and Mrs. Dormoy have lived here for the past 16 years. They own their own home and take a great interest in civic affairs.

Mrs. Dormoy and Miss Alice Dormoy, Dormoy's sister, went down to see the new delivery truck, last week, at the Langendorf plant.

Friday Dance Popular With Youthful Crowd

Young people enjoy parties as much as grown-ups, and the youthful crowd which attended Friday evening's dance at General Pershing school was no exception.

All dressed up, with their faces shining, approximately 150 boys and girls turned out to have a good time. Party dresses and corsages, music and old-fashioned and modern dancing passed the evening.

In charge of the party was the WPA Recreation department, which sponsors a grammar school dance from 7 to 10 p. m. sharp each first and third Friday of the month. There is no admission charge, and supervision is adequate and careful.

a good idea to learn such things, me and the Prince of Wales."

Spike describes his version of "public spirited" like this:

"Ghosts? Yep—thats what we seen on Hallowe'en. Ghosts, goblins, witches and Jack-o-lanterns and you know what? None of us could tell who the other fella was. There was lots of parties all goin' on at the same time and we all had cookies, candy and ice cream. Gee Fellas, you know I think the grown up folks here in Daly City are a swell bunch. They always see that the Kids have a good time, and Dad told me that all the merchants and folks give things to help make our parties go with a bang, yes sir! Dad calls that being public spirited and I'm goin' to be that way when I grow up, and see that the Kids have good times, same as us."

Other 1940 recreation activities which Spike describes in his own inimitable way include the Valentine pageant, the Easter Egg hunt, summer camp, the ceramics classes, the May day hike, and the Christmas party.

THIS WEEK --- At Jefferson Union High School

Music

RALLY

At a piping hot basketball assembly, last Friday, the high school band turned over some good music, to add to the yells and skits presented by the Rally committee.

The band reached a new high in their reading ability as they played Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever," and three other marches.

GRADUATION

This evening the high school chorus of 40 selected voices will sing the following choral numbers: "Recessional," by DeKove; and "Exaltation" by Gibb. Eugene McClain will be the accompanist.

For the retiring march of graduates the orchestra will play Roberts "Pomp and Chivalry." The members of the orchestra will include: violins, James Parker, George Percival, Genevieve Thomas, John Mosman, Marguerita Rogers, Ray Shiffman, Mary Waldrep; viola, Arthur Massaglia; bass, Charles May; oboe, Thelma Twedten; clarinets, Angelo Ditty, Lloyd Rentsch; alto sax, Elizabeth Blassman; tenor sax; Ray McMillen; trumpets, Tom Beeson, Gene Snow; horns, Harvey Melicker, Bob Seiler; trombone, Ernest Anderson; drums, Leslie Whiteley; piano, Norman Wiseman.

SENIOR EDITION

The last "T" has been crossed, the last "I" dotted, and the editor and his staff look over their work with a gleam of satisfaction in their eyes.

After two weeks of hard work the senior edition is finally ready for the stands. The books will be given out tomorrow.

Bill Humphrey and Robert Bybee are responsible for the clever cartoons found throughout the book. Their work was supervised by William Childers, art instructor. To Barbara Foreman and John Razzari go congratulations upon the A-1 stenciling.

In fact, after surveying the book, I think that the whole staff deserves an orchid for their fine work.

ELECTION

FLASH! Here are the returns from the Jefferson January 1941 election: president, John Razzari; vice-president, Mary Heywood; secretary, Violet Bullo; treasurer, Eugenia Rich; sergeant-at-arms, Jack Faulk; judge, Herb Poddig, and yell-leader, Tillie Castro.

Congratulations also go to the fine work of the campaign managers who did much to put their choice in office. Those students who lent their hand to painting signs and making speeches were: Bab Johnston, Dina D'Elia, George Wallace, Adele Menjop, Norma Barker and Roy Di Vencenzi.

When talking to the newly elected officers I asked each one what he hoped to accomplish during his term. Here are just a few of the things that the new administration hopes to accomplish.

President Razzari is going to strive for more school spirit. He said, "We are going to have a big school spirit week and many other programs that will prove fun and interesting at the same time."

Vice-president Mary is new at Jefferson, but believe me she has the stuff to make a good vice-president. "I am going to cooperate to the best of my ability with our president and his whole corps of officers to make this semester's group the best ever," were Mary's words.

Promises of bigger and better rallies, greater efficiency in carrying out law and order, more fun than ever before and many other things that will make the next semester full of fun were guaranteed by the whole group.

Sports

VARSITY

Friday on our own home courts the San Mateo bearcats knocked over Jefferson for a 38-24 loss.

The licking they gave Jefferson keeps the San Mateo basketeers in lead position in the Peninsula Athletic League.

The boys were completely outclassed by the San Mateo cagers, who have held the lead in the league since the beginning of the season.

The line-up included: F., (John) Razzari; F., Brisno; C., Capps; G., Lekoff; G., Faulk. Other players were Sharp, Dyer, Steel, Cacci and Poddig.

High man of the day was John Razzari with a score of 3 field goals.

Losing by only 6 points the Jefferson 30's gave the San Mateo boys a good run for their money. The win over our boys guaranteed the lead position to the Mateans.

Lineup included: F., (Chas.) Razzari; F., McHugh; C., Domecus; G., George; G., Cullan. Wiseman and Huerta also played in the game.

TUESDAY GAME

Last Tuesday also proved to be a bad day for Jefferson as they lost both their Varsity and 130 match to the Lincoln boys.

Although the Jeff men held the Lincoln boys to a tight score throughout the game, they lost 32-37 in the varsity, and 31-34 in the 130 games.

GPAL

Verne Flatt, Shirley Jones, Martha Preziado, Gloria Wade, Lillybell Fletcher, Betty Inks, Mary Ellen Roberts, Eleanor Argesti, and Barbara Wilmoth all took turns in sinking baskets, as they started their practice for the opening of the girls interclass basketball season. The girls were hard at work Friday after school, and Juanita Young, gym instructor, said that the girls looked pretty fair for their first practice.

Campus Fashions

We've discussed everything from shoes to hats, but haven't yet touched on a very important question in a young girl's campus make-up—how to keep your "peaches and cream" complexion during the cold, windy, winter months. This is easy if you follow a few timely suggestions faithfully for several weeks, and then once a week from then on.

Fashion experts say—"No matter how good-looking your clothes are, nothing tends to spoil your appearance more than a dry, uncomely skin."

Let's plan a night off and spend the time analyzing your skin. If it is dry with a lot of blemishes, put on your coat and dash right down to the drug store. Get a good cream—one that isn't too oily and spreads easily without a lot of hard rubbing. After saturating your face, (and don't forget your neck) draw yourself a nice hot bath. While you're taking your nightly bath, the cream on your face and neck is doing its work. The cream and heat cause a vacuum and this gives those "bugaboo," black heads, a good run for their money. After your bath remove, with a soft cloth, the remaining cream.

The next step is to give your face a good soap bath; rinse the skin with warm water and then with cold. Before retiring, apply your night cream. In the morning be sure to remove all of the night cream, and then finish off the treatment with a few pats of your hand lotion. After a couple of weeks' treatment along this line you will be amazed at the results.

This week's fashion bouquet goes to a very popular Miss. She has dark hair, gray blue eyes (by the way the prettiest eyes I have ever seen) and a darling smile. She was attired in a unique green plaid jumper, brown blouse with long sleeves, and brown shoes and socks. It indeed made a snappy campus outfit.

In case you are still in the dark about this week's celebrity, she is a senior, has just recently moved to Jefferson from Notre Dame, and was elected vice-president of the student-body, Thursday. Of course, it's Mary Heywood. So, Mary, to you goes this week's fashion bouquet.

NOPE, THERE AREN'T ANY POSTCARDS THIS YEAR

Car owners: do not wait for postcard notices before getting your 1941 license plates.

This warning was issued today by the San Francisco branch office of the department of motor vehicles, who report they are receiving hundreds of telephone calls from car owners inquiring "When will the fee notification postcards be mailed?"

Postcard notices will not be mailed. In eliminating them, a saving of over $30,000 annually has been effected, the department reports.
